Barr's Flag Irises

A Select abbreviated List for Autumn Planting

The following Irises have been carefully selected from our extensive collection as representing the very best modern varieties for garden decoration. They have all proved themselves to be of vigorous growth and free flowering habit, and to possess all the attributes of a first class garden Iris. We shall be pleased to send our Hardy Plant Catalogue containing our full collection of Irises on request.

Orders are executed in late August or early September according to weather conditions, that being best time to plant.
